COMMERCIAL PHOTOGRAPHERS GO FINE ART

The 2005 Dallas Portfolio Exchange announces its fourth annual exhibition to be held at the Times Ten Cellars, 6324 Prospect Avenue, Lakewood, in Dallas (214.824.9464) on Thursday, September 22 from 7 to 10 PM.

The collection of fine art prints is a compilation of 12 Dallas commercial photographers, who were given creative carte blanche to capture what they feel passionate about. In an effort to inspire themselves, they hope to inspire others.

Founder and organizer, David Lyles, also a photographer, conceived the Exchange in 2001. "It was a way to trade prints with my contemporaries. I had the idea from the get go to make a 13th print so that others could enjoy the art. It is my hope that people will take a moment to reflect on these wonderful images."

This year the twelve contributing photographers are: Kent Barker, James Bland, Stewart Cohen, Thom Jackson, Scott Jenke, Scott Keith, Kristen Kritz, Lorie Leigh Lawrence, David Lyles, Kenda North, Manny Rodriguez, and Byrd Williams.
